DEVELOPMENTAL COMMUNITY

Join the SRE Developmental Community and become part of a pioneering network of educators and learning practitioners exploring how to co-evolve human learning for regenerative worlds. Together, we embark on three seasonal learning journeys per year, each centered around a vital theme.

SRE's first journey's theme (Sep-Dec 2025): Openings for Regeneration — we'll explore how to sense, hold, and create regenerative potential in our learning spaces, and what inner and collective shifts this involves. Themes for 2026 will be announced in the autumn.

Expect monthly online gatherings, reflective practices, and an active community platform where ideas, inspiration, and support are shared. This community is for those called to deepen their promise beyond ableness and help shape meaningful futures in education.

REGENERATIVE EDUCATOR INTENSIVE

The Grounding in Regenerative Educatorship (GRE) Intensive is an immersive online journey into the principles and practices of regenerative education. It offers a dynamic space for educators to deepen their inner development and systemic capacities.

Over three online afternoons across three weeks, you'll engage with reflective practices, readings from The Art of Regenerative Educatorship, and your context. You'll also be welcomed into the wider SRE online community for ongoing connection and exchange.

This intensive is for those ready to explore or deepen regenerative approaches in their work, with a commitment of around 3 hours per week in addition to the online sessions.

Dates and pragmatic info

The GRE Intensive meets online three times over a six week period, in between sessions you will be invited to do an exercise in your learning context.

OFFLINE MEET-UPS

During the seasonal journeys, the SRE also partners with local regenerative organisations to provide opportunities for deep dives related to that season's central theme. Currently, we are preparing two such offerings for sep-dec 2025: A seasonal walk, where we incorporate community-based inquiry and movement. And a Seasonal Dinner, where we partner with a local community-kitchen and regional regenerative food ecosystems to provide a nourishing and nutritious evening of conversation and foods. These events are great if you want an additional chance to deepen your practice and connection with the field and are in or near The Netherlands!

Seasonal Dinner(s)

A family style meal with a purpose. Join for an evening of conversation and community-building about the central theme of the season in The Hague, Utrecht or Amsterdam.

Dates and prices to be announced before September
